HIGHLIGHTS

AFTER SOME LENGTHY PAPERWORK, OUR BROADCAST LICENCE WAS APPROVED FOR ANOTHER 7 YEARS!

CiTR programmer Deepi Leihl collaborated with News Director Morgan Yee and community support workers to produce a radio documentary on accessibility in Metro Vancouver. Deepi's documentary contains enlightening interviews with the Director of UBC's Access and Diversity, a representative from Richmond City Hall, and several other key individuals regarding the challenges of improving accessibility for our city's disabled citizens. Deepi's extraordinary efforts to highlight accessibility issues garnered attention from local media such as Richmond News and the CBC.

THE TOURNAMENT TROPHY // DUNCAN MCHUGH

Duncan McHugh organized the inaugural CiTR Back-to-School Softball Invitational at the Brockton Oval, Stanley Park, pitting CiTR's heavy hitters against the David Beerses (with players from Megaphone and The Tyee), the Rickshaw and The Courtneys. CiTR tied the Rickshaw with seven home runs in the fifth inning - a real radio miracle! - emerging triumphant to place third.

David Love Jones celebrated 20 years of African Rhythms Radio on December 13th, 2013. Former co-host Mike joined the broadcast from the US to celebrate the best in jazz, soul, latin, playing highlights from over the years including interviews with Rachelle Ferrell, Bobby Taylor Taylor Robert Edward, Jayson Hoover, and Linda Jones' Daughter on the phone from NYC!

GRANTS AND SPECIAL PROJECTS

SHE DREAMS IN COLOUR PERFORMS ON-AIR FOR INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY // SARAH CORDINGLEY

THE COMMUNITY RADIO FUND OF CANADA SUPPORTED TWO CITR PROJECTS THIS YEAR.

SO MUCH CAMPUS COVERAGE

We received $10,000 through the Youth Internship Program to hire a Campus Coverage Coordinator. Chirag Mahajan was hired in January 2014 to produce weekly campus-focused programming, creating over 35 hours of audio content in a variety of formats, including interviews, remote broadcasts, special programming and public service announcements. Chirag also assisted with the installation of our new broadcast boards and with equipment planning for our upcoming move.

Highlights included partnerships with UBC communications, live broadcasts of campus events, the Campus and Community Planning Ideas Fair, UBC Skate Park, Vancouver New Music Festival at CIRS, interviews with aboriginal youth artists showcased at the UBC Museum of Anthropology, special programming about the F Word Conference and female journalists in the newsroom for International Womens' Day, and the production of 30 audio campus facts.

SO MUCH OUTREACH!

CiTR also received $20,000 to fund outreach on campus and outreach to the local music community.

Hugo, our Volunteer Manager, and Jenna, our Outreach Coordinator, presented in classrooms, recruited new members, promoted our services to student groups and clubs, and built partnerships with UBC faculties departments. Our membership grew by leaps and bounds, along with our public profile on campus, support from UBC departments, and a wide array of exciting programming partnerships!

Highlights included partnerships with UBC communications, live broadcasts of the 3 Minute Thesis Competition and other campus events, our first UBC Arts intern, two PSA days for AMS clubs, a series of audio facts produced for the "Know My Campus" campaign, sponsorship of the Student Leadership Conference, and 24 Hours of Student Power, an on-air marathon featuring 19 student clubs around the clock!

In the music department, Sarah and Jon, our Local Music Coordinator, promoted music submissions to local bands, organized and executed a number of live, in-studio performances, workshops and events, and collected station IDs from local musicians. Our first ever mailer was sent to 20 campus and community radio stations, helping Vancouver musicians chart across Canada.

DISCORDER

In February 2014, Discorder officially launched a redesign, compressing its size to something more resembling of a zine. Discorder: travel-sized! With nearly double the page count, the new format allows for more of the great written content the magazine is already known for, as well more space for original artwork and photography.

In celebration of the format change, Discorder celebrated with a hugely successful launch party/fundraiser with several bands recently covered in the magazine, including Hallow Moon and War Baby.

SHINDIG

CITR 101.9 FM CELEBRATES

30 YEARS OF SHINDIG

This year, CiTR celebrated 30 years of Shindig!, its local band competition. Over 800 local bands have competed since 1983, winning studio time, showcases and media coverage. Every September through December, twenty-seven bands compete at the Railway Club, while the audience heckles and tells jokes for beer. Shindig has been a staple of Vancouver's local music community, bringing together established and new bands to the historic Railway Club.

This year, Shindig ran from September 13th to December 10th, with doom pop trio War Baby emerging in first place, psych surf pop rockers Skinny Kids in second place, followed by Zen Mystery Fogg's shoe tapping garage rock. Thank you to Ben Lai for hosting, all the judges, participating bands and the Railway Club!

THE HISTORY OF SHINDIG

Shindig! started as the “Hot Air Show” in 1983 at UBC’s Pit Pub, hosted by alum Chris Dafoe. “It was an eventful year. Among those appearing, Bolero Lava (who won and recorded a single that ended up on Zulu’s Last Call years later), French Letters (whose members included Matt Johnson, now of 54-40, and others who went on to play in notable bands) and, I believe, Slow,” adds Dafoe. “We also hosted the Gargoyles, who played two songs, dropped trou [sers], and urinated all over the dance floor of the Pit.”

ZEN MYSTERY FOGG // STEVE LOUIE

WAR BABY // STEVE LOUIE

Kicked out of the Pit Pub, the competition was reborn as “Shindig”, a name stolen from the 60’s CBC show by CiTR President Gord Badanic. Drinks at the Railway Club resulted in chats with Janet Forsyth and a move off campus to the Savoy. According to CiTR VP and Shindig organizer Dave Ball, “The Savoy was the busiest bar in the city on Monday nights, lineups down the stairs and onto the street.” Shindig moved to the Railway Club in 1988, with finals held at the Town Pump, the Starfish Room and the Cruel Elephant. Regular judges included CiTR members (who moved on to other media outlets) and other music writers: John Mackie (Vancouver Sun), Dave Watson (Georgia Straight), Darlene St. Pierre (Westender), Ellie O’Day and Tom Harrison (Province). In 1985, Zulu Records also released a vinyl compilation of Shindig bands, including winners Nerve Tubes (with Steve Drake from The Odds).

VICTORY SQUARE

VICTORY SQUARE BLOCK PARTY

This year, CiTR was presented with the opportunity to become a part of the Victory Square Block Party. The Victory Square Block Party is a free, outdoor festival held once a year at Victory Square Park, featuring Vancouver's newest and notable independent musicians. Megaphone Magazine was unable to organize and approached CiTR, asking us if we wanted to take over as co-presenter with Music Waste. After some discussion, we decided it would be a great opportunity for the station - and now we have our own festival!

Together with Music Waste, we brought eight independent Vancouver artists to Victory Square Park to perform throughout the day:

- » The Courtneys
- » Slam Dunk
- » Jay Arner
- » Slow Learners
- » Dead Ghosts
- » Young Braised
- » Cascadia
- » Kristi Lane Sinclair

Along with supporting local musicians, Victory Square also has a mandate to contribute to the the Downtown Eastside community. Partial proceeds from the event supported Megaphone Magazine, a Downtown Eastside-based magazine sold on the streets of Vancouver by homeless and low income vendors. The other portion went to CiTR!

CiTR also live broadcast and hosted the event!

FUNDRIVE

Between February 27th to March 6th, CiTR DJs asked listeners day and night to call in and help us reach our goal of $35,000, while volunteers hovered by the phones to take pledges. This year's Fundrive was the most successful yet, raising $41,217 for our upcoming move into new studios in the new Student Union Building.

With an upgrade in space also comes an upgrade in location – CiTR and Discorder will be situated off of the main atrium, increasing public profile on campus. Also, the main wall will fold open to invite people into the station and create a performance space for bands to play live into the SUB. Local musicians and artists will have a great outlet for sharing their music with the UBC community.

Thanks to all our donors, volunteers and programmers that contributed to this year's Fundrive!

FUNDRI FINALE

Every year, we celebrate the success of Fundrive, our generous donors, and the hard work of our volunteers with a party featuring local music and a silent auction. This year's Fundrive Finale was an exciting "Rock and Roll Lottery" on March 7 at the Biltmore Cabaret. Twenty-four prominent local musicians volunteered to perform in new songs in randomly assigned bands drawn from a hat. After a week to collaborate, they performed their brand new material for the first (and possibly last) time at our Fundrive Finale!

AWARDS

2014 COMMUNITY RADIO AWARDS

We were very proud when two CiTR programs won Community Radio Awards at the National Campus and Community Radio Conference in Victoria, BC.

Congratulations to Sam Fenn, Gordon Katic and Chirag Mahajan for “Sam Returns to History Maker”, a segment on the Terry Project, recognized for best documentary.

Host of The City, Andy Longhurst, received an honourable mention in the category for current affairs and magazine show, for “Zoned Out? Towers, Upzoning and the Future of Grandview-Woodland”.

SPECIAL PROGRAMMING

SEPTEMBER 2013

Victory Square Block Party: On September 1, CiTR celebrated the end of our sunniest summer ever with a wicked day of music and partying at Cambie and Hastings. This FREE annual end of summer celebration was broadcast live from 2 – 9pm and featured the artists Slam Dunk, The Courtneys, Slow Learners, Jay Arner, Cascadia, V Vecker Ensemble, Young Braised, and Kristi Lane Sinclair. Victory Square 2013 is a collaboration, put on by CiTR 101.9 & Music Waste with partial proceeds going to Megaphone Magazine.

Live@Lunch: CiTR and the AMS brought you live, local tunes to compliment your yummy food nearly every day during the first two weeks in September from 12-1 p.m. at the West SUB Plaza. Between September 4th-13th, we had sets by Dead Ghosts, Thee Ahs, Kristi Lane Sinclair, Jay Arner, Praying for Greater Portland, Lié, Sleuth, and Hooves. CiTR broadcast the music live with DJ sets by Spencer Lindsay, Ryan Rosell, Oswaldo Perez, Cam and Tyler. Hosts included Jason Lloyd, Chris-A-Riffic, Duncan McHugh and Dorothy Neufeld.

Welcome Back BBQ: On Friday, September 6, from 2:30-9pm at the MacInnes Field at UBC the AMS hosted the 30th annual Welcome Back BBQ, and CiTR was there to broadcast LIVE with our hosts Chirag Mahajan, Wade Jordan and Kevin Mason. The Welcome Back BBQ is literally the biggest back to school party there is. Performances were by Felix Cartel, Current Swell, The Harpoonist and the Axe Murderer, MGH! (Glorydays) +More!

Red Jam Slam: From September 10th-13th, the best radio stations around Vancouver broadcast simulcast one thing between 3-7 p.m....RED JAM SLAM!!!! Each day was hosted by a different station, starting with CJSF on Tuesday, then CIVL, followed by CFRO and ending, on ... eeeee!!!! Friday the 13th ... with CiTR. Our day featured Chris Williams, Christie Lee Charles, DJ Denise, Gunargie, Ryan Gonzalez, Joleen Alicia Mitton, Matthew Norris, Murray Porter, Rose Point, Trent Agecoutay, and Wanda John Kehewin.

RYAN ROSELL ON THE COVER OF THE WESTENDER FOR THEIR BACK TO SCHOOL EDITION.

Vancouver Fringe Festival: On September 9th, from 5-7 p.m., CiTR broadcast live from the Vancouver Fringe Bar at the Agro Cafe on Granville Island! Maegan Thomas and Sara Lapsley, backed by the amazing CiTR live broadcast team, interviewed Fringe artists, hosted performances, and pumped some jams. Artists and performers included Radio :30, Threads, This is My Room, Scotch & Chocolate, The Epitome of Regret: A Musical and surprise guests too. Check out our podcast series This Fringey Life, and last year's live broadcast with Adam Janusz.

Study & Go Abroad Fair: On September 26, from 3-6 p.m., CiTR was live from the Vancouver Convention Centre to interview exhibitors at the Study and Go Abroad Fair. This fair included top universities from the UK, USA, Australia, Switzerland, France, Turkey, Israel, Italy, Korea, New Zealand and the Caribbean as well as a delegation of representatives from 11 top universities from China. Our hosts Maegan, Nina and Wade brought us the fun from location.

Giller Prize Long List: on September 16, 2013, The Scotiabank Giller Prize announced its longlist in the lead up for the year's award. It all happened from the Museum of Anthropology at the University of British Columbia - the first time the ceremony has been hosted on the West Coast! CiTR was happy to carry this event live for its listeners worldwide, starting at 8:30 a.m. that

Monday morning. The event was co-hosted by UBC's Creative Writing Program and the Vancouver Writers Fest. This was the 20th anniversary of the Giller Prize and the 50th anniversary of UBC's distinguished Creative Writing Program. Esi Edugyan, author and 2013 Giller juror, presented the 13 titles that were chosen from a field of 147 books, submitted by 61 publishers from every region of the country.

Metamorphes: On Saturday, September 28, from 3-6 p.m. CiTR broadcast live from the Mount Pleasant Neighbourhood House's annual event that celebrates music, art and culture in the community. Despite the torrential downpour that carried swag down the street in the strong currents of the gutter rivers, we managed to keep the equipment dry (enough) to catch performances by The Sojourners, Tonye Aganaba, and Peace.

NOVEMBER 2013

Lace Up for Kids: On Thursday, November 21, from 6-8 p.m., CiTR broadcast amid the festivities at the UBC Thunderbird Arena. Hosts Sara Lapsley (CiTR Arts Report), Olamide Olaniyan, Ibrahim Itani, Zach Weiss and Jenna Earnshaw interviewed organizers and festival goers at this annual event. Lace Up for Kids is UBC REC's student driven charity event that is a great opportunity for individuals or teams to give back to the community and to raise money for BC Children's Hospital Foundation in support of Rare Disease Research.

Urban Renewal Project: December 17 from 10 p.m. to midnight at the Cobalt. The Urban Renewal Project celebrated their first anniversary by showcasing Canadian Hip Hop and R&B Artists who have graced the airwaves. The show was broadcast LIVE from CTR & Co-Op Radio Simultaneously and featured DJ Denise & DJ Natural with live performances by Blak Ace, JC Subliminal (SMG), Baby C, Family Compact, B. Diamond & Don Castro.

24 Hours of Student Power: On Monday December 2nd, CTR dedicated 24 hours of on-air time to our UBC student programmers and AMS Clubs. This allowed radio to be used as a medium for students to reach out to the UBC and Vancouver community and educate and inspire people about the awesome clubs that we have on campus!

JANUARY 2014

AMS Elections Great Debate: CTR was there to broadcast the big one. The Great Debate is a formal debate event open to all students. This was the only event where all candidates were present so that we could learn more about each platform and get all our questions answered.

The order of the debate was: VP Finance, VP Admin, VP Academic, VP External, Senate, Board of Governors, President, Referendum Committees and it took place at the Hillel House on January 27th, from 5-8pm

Student Leadership Conference: The SLC is one of Canada's largest student-run conferences, with over 1200 student delegates, hundreds of volunteers, over 100 workshop presenters, 12 featured presenters and 2 keynotes. The theme of this year's conference was "Be Infinite". The theme is centred around the idea that leadership cannot be defined, and everyone has the potential to be immeasurably great in whatever they do. At the conference, delegates built their own schedule with choice of workshops, activities and speakers. CTR was there to broadcast two of the featured presenters: David Ng and Alia Dharamsi on Saturday, January 11.

24 Hours of Radio Art: On January 17, artists around the world celebrates Art's Birthday and CiTR transmits local Radio Art to the world. Our celebration, 24 Hours of Radio Art will broadcast Midnight to Midnight on CiTR 101.9FM and www.citr.ca. Hosted and curated by Bepi Crespan, Andy Hunter, Broken Sleep, Tim Fernandes, Oswaldo Perez Cabrera, Raghunath Ritch, Miki Aurora, Maegan Thomas, Meat Hands, GAK, Pyra Draculea and Chirag Mahajan.

FEBRUARY 2014

Homelessness Marathon 2013: For the eleventh year in the row, CKUT radio hosted the Homelessness Marathon in front of the Native Friendship Centre of Montreal. The broadcast was simulcast on close to 40 other stations in nearly every province and territory across the country. This year we heard up to 21 hours of content with both a simultaneous local and a national broadcast, hosted in 13 cities by other campus/community radio stations. The growing number of stations taking on a more engaged role in the marathon indicates the resonance of inadequate housing and homelessness issues everywhere in Canada. In Canada housing continues to be a privilege instead of a right. It's time to listen and to act. CiTR was proud to rebroadcast select content from the archives in 2013.

Study & Go Abroad: CiTR was back in action at the Study & Go Abroad Fair at the Vancouver Convention Centre East on Wednesday, February 26, from 3-6 p.m. Out beautiful hosts, Chirag Mahajan, Lollie Fakinlede and Sara Lapsley (Arts Report) interviewed reps from schools and programs from around the world. CiTR kept the atmosphere bumping with local indie rock, reggae, soca, Kenyan and South African hits.

UBC 3 Minute Thesis (3MT) Finals: Thursday, March 13 from 4:30 - 6 p.m. was a live broadcast of the UBC 3MT Finals from the Graduate Student Centre. 3MT is an academic competition that assists current graduate students with fostering effective presentation and communication skills. Participants had just three minutes to explain the breadth and significance of their research project to a non-specialist audience. In 2012, over 30 universities across Australia, New Zealand, Hong Kong and the South Pacific participated in this fun, highly informative and very entertaining event. International Women's Day: On Saturday, March 8, CiTR featured programming from 8 AM – 10 PM that highlighted female programmers, musicians, athletes, activists, organizations and more! We celebrated the role of women throughout the world with 14 hours (!!!) of vibrant, energetic and dynamic programming you wouldn't hear anywhere else. The entire day was coordinated by Eleanor Wearing.

AMS Block Party: On April 8 was the 7th Annual AMS Block Party. This year's lineup featured Adventure Club, Dan Mangan + Blacksmith, SHAD, The Crackling, AMS Last Band Standing winner Rebel on a Mountain, MGH! and Sincerely Hana. This gigantic party was originally slated to be at Matthews field, located right next to Thunderbird Stadium, but was probably too far for drunk students to walk back to the bus loop safely and definitely too far for our equipment to broadcast. Thankfully, we ended up next door in the SUB West Plaza! Our hosts and techs, Wade Jordan, Chirag Mahajan, Olamide Olaniyan, Lucy Clarkson and Giuliano Bianco enjoyed the day.

Record Store Day: In 2012, CJSF 90.1 FM and CiTR combined forces to bring as much of record store day as possible to our listeners. By hop-scotching each other at our remote broadcast locations throughout Vancouver, we were able to cover live performances from a variety of venues. Our stations continued the fun in 2014 with broadcasts from Vinyl Records, Beat Street, Neptoon and Red Cat.

NARDWAR AT THE SKATE JAM LIVE BROADCAST. // CHIRAG MAHAJAN

Crimes & Treasons at the Astoria: On April 29, the weekly 'Fever' night at the Astoria teamed up with Crimes & Treasons, our Tuesday night Hip Hop show, for a big party with a manic criminal twist. The good times were broadcast live from 9-11 p.m. with DJ Relly Rel$, That Homeboy Jules & Jamal Steeles as they brought you everything rap related, including the freshest cuts old and new, completely unedited and uncensored."

MAY 2014

REZ BLUEZ: on Saturday, May 3 from 9:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Fairview Pub, 898 on West Broadway, CiTR broadcast REZ BLUEZ live! Performances by the incredibly Beautiful & Powerful singer, Fara Palmer followed by the Murray Porter Band.

JULY 2014

Skate Jam: on Friday, July 4th, freestyle skateboarding, Nardwuar, and great summer tunes all came together at UBC's Skate Park (the first campus skateboard park in North America!). The Skate Jam was created by Skull skateboard shop in collaboration with the University Neighbourhood Association, and CiTR! Starring Andy Anderson and world class freestyle skater Kevin Harris along with CiTR's Nardwuar The Human Serviette, we were broadcasting live at UBC Skate Park from 3:30-5 p.m. Food and refreshments, skateboard games and prizes - the event was open to everyone!

Khatsahlano!: on Saturday, July 12th, CiTR went live-to-air at Vancouver's biggest music and arts festival of the summer. This year, CiTR partnered with Zulu Records for a sponsored stage at Cypress and West 4th. Featured acts at the Zulu Records and the CiTR stage included: Phoenix Thunderbird, Shawn Mrazek Lives!, Sunday Morning, Inherent Vices, Cool, Young Braised, Holy Hum and White Poppy. We also had tables where people could grab some awesome CiTR gear or Discorder Magazines.

Folk Fest: Saturday, July 19th, CiTR was back at Jericho beach for another weekend of gorgeous summer weather and soothing sounds of Folk music from all over the world. The 37th annual Vancouver Folk Music Festival was amazing. CiTR and Discorder were there, providing a live broadcast and making ourselves known with our merchandise booth. Hosts Steve Edge, Linda Bull, Val Cormier, Chirag Mahajan and Wade Jordan interviewed artists and brought you special live performances.

AUGUST 2014

UBC Jumpstart Resource Fair: CiTR was live broadcasting from the Jumpstart Fair on August 14, from 12:30-2:30 p.m. with hosts/DJ's Wade and CJ. Visitors at the fair included Indigenous students, International Students new to UBC, and National Students new to UBC. For some this was their first or second day on campus. They probably didn't know a lot about UBC or Vancouver but they sure found out about CiTR through the great music!

Balcony Broadcasts in the Spring of 2014: After dreaming long enough about hosting a radio show on the balcony, many programmers decided to wake up and feel the sunshine. Fresh air indeed! We played tunes to say goodbye to McInnes Field before they dug it up for the new aquatic centre. So many memories.
